WITNESSES NOT AFRAID

Circuit Court Begins To-day
With Fifteen Night
Rider Cases.

Murray, Ky., April 11.—In the night rider examining trials to-day, nine of the alleged night riders arrested during the past few days were held to the grand jury on bonds ranging from $1,000 to $2,000, and most remarkable testimony ever introduced in a Kentucky court will be presented to the grand jury which will be empaneled by Circuit Judge Thomas P. Cook next Monday morning.

The scenes in connection with the examining trials of the men were perhaps the most dramatic ever witnessed in a Kentucky court, and it was the first time since the tobacco war first started in the State, at most two years ago, that victims of the night raids have dared to come into open court and tell of the outrages suffered at the hands of the night riders.

On the witness stand during the day young men and old men, some passed the three-score and ten allotment, told of the brutal treatment administered to them during the dead hours of the night by the men on trial, all of whom were recognized by one or more of the witnesses and pointed out in the densely crowded courtroom.

Night Riders' Switch.

This was followed by one of the witnesses exhibiting in court room the limb with which he had been subjected to a severe drubbing. He said the stick had been designated by the night riders as a "switch." The dramatic features ended at the conclusion of the trials when County Judge Wells made a speech to the people of Murray and Calloway county, urging them to stand by the law.

In almost every instance where visits were made by the night riders efforts were made to get the victims to consent to take the oath and become members of the raiders, and it was upon their refusal that the lash was applied and threats made to return and hang them and ridle.

HEARS LEGAL OPINION.

Review of the Points of the Telephone History of 26 Years.

The city council met in adjourned session Friday night to consider the legal opinion submitted by City Attorney Walter Knight and special counsel Dury & Rives, on the attitude of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Co., since the expiration of its franchise nearly six years ago. The opinion was exhaustive and the conclusion the attorneys arrived at was that the company had no franchise that had not expired by limitation and that by the purchase of a new franchise was the only way it can get on a legal basis in the city.

After discussion the council passed two ordinances, one repealing an ordinance in which a former council attempted to substitute an agreement for a franchise, the other making it unlawful for any telephone company or similar corporation to attempt to do business in the city without a franchise purchased in the lawful way. The penalty is $50 to $100 each day it takes effect in ninety days, which will be July 12. Both of these ordinances are published in another column.

Some of the points in the history of the telephone matter and the legal conclusion, that influenced the action, are contained in the following summary:

Sec. 3490, subsection 1, says the council has power "to pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution or laws of this State." The council attempted to grant a franchise by ordinance, which was in conflict with Sec. 164 of the Constitution.

The East Tennessee Telephone Co.'s permit to use the streets grant-

The Icelanders' Language.

How strange it would seem to us today if there existed, say in Newfoundland, a colony of Anglo-Saxons, sent there by King Alfred and speaking still the pure old Saxon tongue of King Alfred's Wessex! Yet this would exactly parallel the case of Iceland. While Danes and Swedes have modernized the ancient Scandinavian sagas into the Danish and Swedish of the present day the Icelanders still go on speaking the tongue of their forefathers pretty much as it was spoken by Rolf the Ganger and Harold Harfagra. They read the sagas in the tongue of the old singers as easily as our children can read Shakespeare and the English Bible.

The Missing Kiss.

George had been busy on business for a whole long week, and during that time he had sent Clara ten letters, six letter cards and forty-two picture post cards.

"Why, then, was there a touch of coldness in her greeting when he drew to her arms on his return?"

"Dearest," he whispered, "what is the matter?"

"Oh, George," she said, "you didn't send a kiss in your ninth letter."

"My precious," he replied, "that night I had steak and oysters for dinner, and you wouldn't have liked a kiss after onions, would you?"

And, such is the unfathomable power of love, she was satisfied and nestled to him—Pearson's Weekly.

Infant Wives.

Girl babies are often unwelcome in China. A terrible witness to this is a stone standing near a pool outside the city of Foochow. On it is the inscription, "Girls may not be drowned here." Poor parents often sell or give away a daughter when only a few weeks or months old, to be the future wife of a boy about her own age. The child who becomes a bride by a "rearing marriage" is taken home and brought up by the family of her future husband. An Englishwoman when visiting a school observed a bright boy about eight years of age carrying a baby girl. She asked if she were his sister, whereupon the boy looked shy and did not answer. His brother volunteered the information, "She is his wife!"

The work of gathering evidence in this county has not yet been assisted by confessions, as was the case in Marshall and Calloway, but new clues are being discovered constantly and the June grand jury will have much to do. In the mean while, there have been no fresh outrages in this county for nearly two months.

ed Feb. 7, 1882, was forfeited by the failure of the company in 1886, was revoked and the defunct company's poles and wires declared to be a nuisance Aug. 5, 1887, after due notice, and an exclusive franchise was sold to S. H. Turner & Co. This franchise, for 15 years, was sold to the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co. in 1893 and expired by limitation Aug. 5, 1902. In July, 1902, the Cumberland Co. asked for the sale of a renewal franchise and one was advertised and offered for sale containing certain restrictions. The Cumberland refused to bid on the franchise, but announced that it would run without further franchise than the permit to the defunct East Tennessee Co. granted in 1882 and revoked in 1887, before its own exclusive franchise was granted.

The constitutional limitation of 20 years on all franchises now operates against the permit of 1882 and the franchise of 1887, even if they had not otherwise ceased and expired. The ordinance granting, or attempting to grant, a contract in 1902 was in conflict with the constitution, could not, if valid, include a contract binding future councils and could not grant a license extending beyond Dec. 31, 1902.

In view of all these facts, the alleged contract of 1902 is the only claim the Cumberland has to fall back upon under any construction of the law. This being illegal at the start, having expired by limitation several years ago, and not renewed for more than five years, has no binding force whatever.

The contract as originally made provided for a monthly rental service. Its provisions are being constantly violated by the Cumberland, which will no longer furnish service by the month to all patrons, but demands yearly contracts, payable monthly.

It provided for service as favorable as that enjoyed by other cities, with uniform rates. The Cumberland is violating this provision by discriminating against patrons, some being required to pay $1.50 and others $2 per month for the same service. An instance was reported to the council where it was desired to change the name of the subscribers without moving the phone. The old patron was paying $1.50, the new one was required to pay $2 and sign a contract for a year. Tenants who have these contracts and have to give up rented houses are charged $2.50 for moving their phones to new locations. Persons who leave home for the summer cannot deduct for service not given. These instances are mentioned not that they were considered as bearing on the lack of a franchise, but to show that the contract the council of 1902 attempted to make has been so flagrantly violated that three of the present councilmen, who voted for the former ordinance, voted for its repeal, as did every other member of the council, after an exhaustive legal opinion bearing only on the legal aspects of the case had been read and carefully considered.

The meeting was not an executive session, as has been stated. No one was excluded and some citizens were present. Other business was transacted. Bids received by the committee in the matter of contracting for a 50-inch sewer on Tenth street, were submitted to the council by Chairman Lucian H. Davis. The bid of Gus H. Moore, Jr., was the lowest for concrete and that of Dalton Bros. for brick, being $3,931 and $3,972 respectively. There were six other bids. A motion was passed directing the city attorney to confer with the city engineer and the sewer committee and prepare a contract for the sewer and draft an ordinance authorizing the expenditure.

Suburb of Boston Has a

Fire.

STARTED FROM RAGS.

Ten Thousand People Homeless In Manufacturing City.

Boston, April 12.—An apparently insignificant fire, which started among rags on a dump in the city of Chelsea today was fanned by a northwest gale into a conflagration which obliterated nearly one-third of the city. Five hundred dwelling houses and public buildings were destroyed, fifteen hundred families were driven from their habitations and 10,000 people made homeless.

Two lives are known to have been lost, and at a late hour it was reported that two other persons had perished, one a woman, having shot herself in a frenzy over her inability to save her property. From 50 to 100 were injured.

An accurate estimate of the loss is impossible. The city solicitor estimates it at nearly $10,000,000.

TWICE CURED OF SKIN TROUBLES

First Case a Rash Which Itched and Burning Throated. Two Years With Blood-Poison in Legs—But Both Times the Sufferer's

RELIEF IN CUTICURA PROVED WELL-FOUNDED

"About twelve or fifteen years ago, while living in West Virginia, I had a breaking-out, and it itched and stung so badly that I could not have any peace because of it. I saw three doctors and they did not agree on what it was, so one of them gave me something that he called medicine, but I called it soda water. I might just as well have washed in rain-water. Then I got some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Kerosene, and began to get better right away. They cured me and I have not been bothered with the itching since, to mention anything. About two years ago I had a gripe and pneumonia which left me with a pain in my side. Treatment ran it into my leg, which then swelled and began to break out. I used Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Kerosene, and I used it for another set of the Cuticura Remedies. I used them three times and I cured the breaking-out on my leg. Now I won't be bothered with it again." J. F. Hendrix, R. F. D. 3, Milan, Mo., May 13, 1907.

BOTTOM DROPPED OUT IN CALLOWAY COUNTY.

their bodies with bullets if they dared to report the visit to the officials.

Illness Saved Him.

William Dyer, a prominent young farmer, was the first witness introduced, and he testified that he called from his bed after midnight on April 1 and taken to the road by the masked men, but because of the severe illness he was not whipped. He was threatened with death if he reported the visit.

James Whitlock, operator of a small telephone exchange in the eastern section of the county, was next on the stand, he said, by two of the defendants, Jake Ellis and Van Elkins, and asked by them to join in a raid the following Thursday night. He refused to do this and was then made, at the point of revolvers, to get down on his knees and with his right hand to Heaven take the obligation of the "night riders." He then was requested to turn off the switchboard at the telephone exchange on the Thursday night in question under penalty of death if he refused, and he acted according to instructions, after first notifying one of the directors of the telephone company and being advised by him to carry out the instructions for self-protection.

Riders Known by Numbers.

It was on this night that the raiders visited the home of Frank Mardis, a short distance from the telephone exchange, and whipped him within an inch of his life. Mardis testified that he was called from his home and escorted a short distance from the house, where the captain of the gang ordered "Number Ten" to cut the switch and "Number One" "Number Two" to hold his hands while the lash was applied. In each instance, according to the witnesses, the leader of the gang wore a white sash across his breast and always addressed the other members of the party by numbers, and in some cases a vote was taken by the gang as to whether or not a man was to be whipped. In each case the whipping was administered, as few if any would vote to postpone the flogging.

Clarence Dyer, younger brother of William Dyer, testified that he was made to take the oath of allegiance at the point of four revolvers, after which he was taken to the home of one of the men, Jack Elkins, to spend the night. While there, he said, Elkins showed him the marks worn by the men on the raids and the white insignias always worn by the captain and leader of the party. He said he was told by Elkins of the plans to whip Frank Mardis and Albert Berry and the nights on which the whippings were to be administered. He was followed on the stand by both of the victims, who testified that the whippings were pulled off on schedule time.

Defense Silent.

The nine men whose examining trials were conducted today were represented by F. F. Acree, and while many witnesses were summoned by the defense, and were in court to testify, the proof against the defendants was so strong that it was not disputed by the defense, Acree relying upon his testimony before a jury to acquit the defendants. The men held to answer to the grand jury are Robert Duncan, Jake Ellis, Jack Elkins, Van Elkins, Hardin Lovett, Damon Miller, Ed Thompson, Carlos Elkins and Joseph Bell. The last named is charged with being the captain of the gang, and while there was very little direct evidence against him, he was bound over by Judge Wells chiefly because of his actions yesterday. He visited the men in jail, and while there took letters from all of them instructing him as to what witnesses to seek and how to post them as to what to testify to on the trial of their cases. In one instance the father and sister of one of the prisoners was to be asked by Bell to testify to certain things regarding the whereabouts of the defendant on the night he is said to have assisted in a raid. Bell was seen by one of the officers taking charge of the papers, and was promptly arrested. He is a Mason and Woodman of the World, but is the only one of the men belonging to any secret order aside from their alleged connection with the "night riders," which is said to be an oath-bound organization.

More Men Arrested.

The soldiers under command of Captain G. W. Caudill, of the Whitesburg company, and Capt. J. L. Givens, of the Middleboro company, made another round-up of the county late Friday night and this morning brought in John A. Washer, Arthur Cooper, Josh Cunningham, Aaron Jones and John Williams, making fifteen men now under arrest. It is said, the same testimony will be used against them as in the other cases. All of the men implicated in the night rider raids furnished bail and returned to their homes to await the action of the grand jury.

In Burley District.

The large stock barns of Lee Lawrence, in the extreme west end of Boyle county, were consumed by fire about 2 o'clock Saturday morning. It developed to-day that his tobacco plant beds had been covered with salt. There was no insurance, and his farming machinery and feed were burned in the buildings.

Several tobacco raisers in the Hanover, Ind., neighborhood have received letters inciting matches. These letters were postmarked "Milton, Ky.," and warned them to plant no tobacco this year.

Hargis Refused Bail.

Beach Hargis, charged with the murder of his father, Judge James Hargis, was refused bail after a hearing before Judge Adams, which lasted two days at Jackson. Hargis entered and attempted to prove plea of self-defense. Two witnesses testified that they saw Judge Hargis choke and beat the son who shot him.

IT SAVED MY LIFE—

WRITES ECZEMA PATIENT.

Bed-ridden Sufferer Completely Cured by Use of D. D. D. External Wash.

One of the most remarkable Eczema cures recently credited to the well known D. D. D. Prescription has just been recorded in Chicago. Mrs. E. Hegg, 1550 West Madison street, under date of Dec. 9, 1907, writes as follows: "I suffered three years with Weeping Eczema. It started with a little spot on my knees and spread fast over my whole body. I spent hundreds of dollars and went to every good doctor I heard of, but kept getting worse. Nothing would stop the awful itch and burning. "I had to stay in bed from the middle of May to the middle of July. Then I tried D. D. D. Prescription. This is the 9th of December and I am entirely free from the terrible disease. D. D. D. saved my life.

"When I began this treatment, people were afraid of me. I looked so terrible. My husband was the only one who would take care of me. D. D. D. stopped the itch at once so I could sleep, which I had not done before. Then I began to get better fast and now my skin is clear and white, not a spot anywhere." Just a few drops of D. D. D. Prescription applied to the skin brings relief—nothing to swallow or drink. We vouch for D. D. D. Prescription, also the cleansing D. D. D. Soap. R. C. Hardwick, Hopkinsville, Ky. HER FIRST HUSBAND

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 9.—Returning to his home near Jonesboro, Tenn., after he had been mourned as dead for five years, John T. Strong found his wife, now 32 years old, married to William Curtis and two children born in this union. Curtis had married Mrs. Strong fully believing her husband was dead. When Strong returned to his home he greeted the new family cordially. It was decided to allow Mrs. Strong-Curtis to settle the perplexing matter by deciding between the two men. She chose her first husband, and now Curtis, who says he loves her, will institute formal proceedings to annul the marriage between himself and the woman. Strong had been in the army in the Philip-

Grand Jury at Work.

Murray, Ky., April 13.—Judge Cook's charge to the grand jury today was strong and vigorous and a mass of testimony will at once be laid before the body.

County Judge Wells has become a hero, not only in the eyes of the liberty-loving and law-abiding citizens of Calloway county, but of the adjoining counties as well, and he is being congratulated on all sides by this class of citizens for his firm stand against lawlessness, and it is contended that if his course and that of his fellow-officials is followed in other terror-stricken counties of the State, lawlessness will be quickly stamped out and peace and confidence restored.

While the great good accomplished and the exposures made during the last few days are due chiefly to the efforts of Judge Wells in starting the crusade to stamp out lawlessness, the Judge himself, while admitting responsibility, gives the credit to Sheriff J. A. Edwards, Deputy Sheriff John G. Holland from the eastern section of the county, Constable W. J. Drinker from the western end of the county and former Sheriff William Holland, engaged by Judge Wells as special officer to assist in unraveling the methods of the night riders.

These men, Judge Wells said, had taken their lives in their hands in the face of threats of certain death, and invaded the very hotbeds of the gangs in various sections of the county pleaded with the victims to tell the truth, even with death as their reward.

Happily, the opposition which first developed to the bringing of the soldiers to the county has about vanished since Judge Wells made his point clear.

Judge Wells said he would keep the soldiers on duty until after Circuit Court has adjourned and even longer, that is, if the same feeling of fear exists then as now or if the result of the grand jury investigation is not sufficient to restore law and order.

FINED $27,700.

Men Charged With Running a Game Compromise With the Government.

Covington, Ky., April 9.—Upon the agreement of the Kentucky Lottery to quit business in the United States forever, a fine of $27,700 was entered against it in the United States court here today. The fines were divided among the promoters as follows:

Maurice Richmond, $10,000; J. R. Jameison, $5,000; Charles E. Wells, $5,000; Sidney Long, $5,000; H. W. Armstrong and Louis Gato, $250 each, and James Starr, $200.

Court costs in the action will be about $1,800, and this will be added to the check which the lottery promised to send at once to the court officials, ending the work through which Chief Wilke, of the Secret Service, ran the concern down. A grand jury at Richmond returned these indictments February 6, the indictments against Thomas Dawson, of Indianapolis, and John Weidner, of New York, being nolleed by consent of the United States.

It was found that the company had lotteries all over the country, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Erie, Cincinnati and New York being the branches, and the central office being in Kentucky.

JOHNSON IS WILLING.

Would Accept Nomination, But Will Not Scramble For It.

Chicago, April 10.—Gov. John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, says: "I am a candidate for the Presidency in the sense that if I gain the nomination I shall accept it and make every effort to be elected. I am not making any personal campaign, and do not expect to seek instructed delegates. I consider the ambition to be President one of the most laudable aspirations which any man can entertain.

"Any insinuations or assertions," said Gov. Johnson, "that my candidacy is being advised by James J. Hill and his interests is absolutely false. I have fought him several times, and have never received a word of encouragement from him or any similar source."

Gov. Johnson said that he did not care to discuss Wm. J. Bryan and any differences in policy between himself and Mr. Bryan.

"I have the highest regard for Mr. Bryan as a man," said Gov. Johnson, "and I admire his ability and his honesty. We are friends so far as I know. My position is just this: If the members of the Democratic party feel that I would stand more chance of election than would Mr. Bryan or any other man, I will be glad to make the campaign."

"If I am considered the most available man, there will be no lack on my part of the honor conferred on me. It all depends, in my judgment, on the platform and a vigorous campaign. As I view it, the Democratic party has at least an even chance to win this year."

DANCED AROUND CORPSE

Growsome Wind-up of Meeting of Undertakers' Association.

Omaha, Neb., April 11.—A special from Sioux City says: Dancing a wild orgy around the prostrate form of a naked cadaver, a party of high spirited undertakers brought the twenty-eighth annual convention of the Iowa Funeral Directors' Association to a close in the early morning hours with scenes of wild-eyed revelry.

A convivial spirit, noticing a corpse which had been used in the demonstrations, proposed that the "stiff" should take part in the festivities. In an instant various members of the crowd contributed portions of their raiment and soon the body was dressed, propped up on the platform, with a cigar jammed between his teeth and the revelers made merry jests as they circled around. As the merriment became more furious they tore the clothing from the lifeless body, laid it out on an improvised bier, strewn the "remains" with flowers and then danced in gay abandon about the platform.

TAKES FOR HIS SUBJECT

"What Would I Do If I Were An Editor."

We note in an exchange the following article, which appears to us:

A Peoria preacher is going to speak on the subject, "What I Would Do If I Were An Editor." Well, he would do about what the rest of us do. Say nice things about everybody, try to cover up some people's meanness, boost the town, take anything on subscription from pumpkins to gold dollars, hustle around town for news, get cussed for some things he put in the paper, and some things he failed to put in. If he didn't do these things and a hundred more that are required of the editor, he would not be an editor long enough to get the ecclesiastical veneer worn off.

It's fun to be an editor—try it.

The Billboard.

A certain playwright who has graduated from the press agent academy stood in front of a Broadway billboard one day in a driving rain and sadly contemplated the moist, pasty wreck of a once lovely lithograph.

"You can never get away from the business you were brought up in," he said. "Honestly, it hurts me almost as much to see that wreck of a three sheet as it would to see one of my plays fail. To this day I never wake up on a rainy morning without my first thought being as I look out of the window, 'There'll be a lot of good paper down by night.' It's the agent's fault. You can never outgrow it."—New York Sun.

The Flag and the Regiment.

When William McKinley was Major McKinley he once made an address in which he described the difference between the American volunteer and the soldier of other nations. The men who were his comrades in the war between the states, he said, not only fought, but thought. To illustrate this he related an anecdote about a young soldier in some northern regiment whose duty it was to carry the regimental flag. On the march the boy ran on ahead, with the flag streaming in the air. The colonel was incensed. "Here!" he cried. "Bring that flag back to the regiment!"

The boy turned and replied, "Aw, you bring your regiment up to the flag!"

MR. BRYAN'S OPINIONS

The plan of guaranteed bank deposits has probably found favor, among all classes of people and irrespective of political affiliation, more rapidly than any other public question.

The new state of Oklahoma has already enacted a law taxing state banks, the fund thus accumulated to be used in paying the depositors of any state bank that from any cause becomes unable to meet its obligations. A special session of the Kansas legislature has been called for the purpose of enacting legislation similar to the Oklahoma plan. The governor of Nebraska is considering the advisability of calling a special session of the legislature on account of the growing belief among the people that protection to bank depositors in the form of state or federal guarantees of their deposits will stop the hoarding of money, bring into circulation sufficient currency to conduct the business of the country, and prevent a recurrence of such disastrous panics as the one through which we are now passing.

Mr. Bryan has been an advocate of a law guaranteeing deposits in state and national banks since 1893.

Mr. Bryan, in discussing the tariff questions, insists that residents of the United States should be permitted to buy home-made goods at home at as low a price as the foreigner can buy American-made goods abroad. He also insists that our government should be by and for the people as a whole, rather than by and for the trusts, and administered in the interest of a few beneficiaries of the trust system. He believes that national legislation for the purpose of better regulation and control of interstate commerce and common carriers should supplement state legislation, and not be a substitute for state legislation.

Mr. Bryan's paper, The Commoner, reflects his opinions each week on questions of public importance and in its columns may also be found his magazine articles, public speeches, addresses and lectures, which are referred to in the daily press from day to day.

If you are interested in political questions, if you desire to keep in touch with the progress of the campaign and to read Mr. Bryan's campaign speeches send sixty cents to The Commoner, and the paper will be sent to you each week until the close of the next presidential campaign.

Postoffice money order, currency or stamps will be accepted. Only sixty cents. Address The Commoner, Lincoln, Neb.

To Federal Grand Jury at Owensboro.

N. B. Livingston, who was arrested at Greenville and brought before Commissioner Yonts, waived examining trial. He was held over to the May term of the federal grand jury, and in default of a bond of $500 was taken to Owensboro and placed in jail.

It is alleged that Livingston fleeced several negroes at Henderson. He told them that he represented the government pension office and was making a settlement of old war claims. It is said that the negroes he approached had served in the army during the Civil war. Livingston is alleged to have collected money for his "services" from the negroes.

SERIES OF BURGLARIES

Create Impression That Organized Gang Is Working In Clarksville.

Clarksville Tenn., April 10.—There seems to be an organized band of burglars in the city who have so far succeeded in covering up their tracks. Within the past week four stores have been entered and the cash drawers rifled, the thief securing small amounts of money. The stores of J. E. Elder, Northington Grocery Company, J. D. Coleman and the billiard hall of B. G. Hattler were entered from the rear of the buildings. An unsuccessful attempt was made to enter Cross & Pannabaker's shoe store. The police are at work on the case and believe they have some clue.

Wanted.

A young man of neat appearance as traveling salesman, experience unnecessary. Apply E. H. Biggs, after 5 p. m., 408 S. Main St.
